

Privacy Regulations

We respect your privacy. Our organization strives towards the best possible safeguarding of your privacy. We will treat the information that you supply to us with confidentiality. We comply with the applicable laws and legislation pertaining to privacy when processing personal information. In these privacy regulations we inform you about the method we use when handling your information.

Scope of application

This privacy policy applies to Active Health Foundation.

Categories of personal data

If you are involved in one or more of our initiatives and/or projects, then you will leave certain information with us. This may include personal information. We solely use and store personal data which is specified by you directly or of which it is clear by statement that it is provided to us to be processed.

We can collect the following information:

- Name
- Address
- Location
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Financial information

Basis for data processing

We are only allowed to process your personal data if we do so on a so-called legal basis.

In order to process your name, address, residence and contact information, we will ask for your permission; you will find this principle in article 6, paragraph 1 under a of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

For anonymised information processing using Google Analytics as specified in these privacy regulations for 'Cookies', the principle is article 6, paragraph 1 under f of the GDPR.

We process your financial data to execute the agreement between us and you (for example, if you are a donor); this principle can be found in article 6, paragraph 1 under b of the GDPR.

A justified interest in marketing & communication purposes provides another basis; in that case the legal basis is article 6, clause 1 subsection f GTC.

Without your information we are unable to inform you about our organization or to involve you in one or more of our initiatives and/or projects.

Sources

We receive your personal information from you and third parties with whom we collaborate.

Purposes of the information processing

The personal information which is collected by us, is used for the following purposes:

- Information provision about our activities,
- Accounting,
- Processing your donations, and
- Processing our donations to you or others.

Access to personal data

Within our organization, we apply the following principles regarding access to personal data:

- Only employees have access to personal data to the extent necessary for the proper performance of their duties.
- Authorisations for information systems shall be granted only to officials in job groups to whom access is necessary pursuant to the performance of their duties. An authorisation matrix specifies the authorisations up to the level of the type of rights: none, reading, editing.
- Third parties hired or otherwise appointed by Active Health Foundation to perform work have access to personal data to the extent necessary for the proper performance of their duties and are contractually bound to secrecy.
- Electronic (medical) personal data shall be secured in such a way that unauthorised persons cannot gain access to these data.

Provision of your personal data to third parties

Personal data shall only be provided to a third party when required by a statutory requirement or with the consent of the registered person or his authorised representative, or if the data processing is necessary to protect the legitimate interests of the third party to whom the data is provided.

Retention periods

We will not retain personal data for longer than is necessary for the purposes described above, unless required by law, which provision will be observed by us.

If we have concluded an agreement with you, then we will save your information as long as prescribed by law; normally, this is 7 years. If we have not concluded an agreement with you, then we will save your contact information as long as we have a justified interest in doing so, and as long as you do not object to this.

For the retention of complaints, we apply a term of 2 years after the complaint has been completed.

Cookies

Our website www.activehealthfoundation.org tracks general visiting details using Google Analytics. We can use this information in anonymised form for statistical analysis and optimisation of the functioning of the website. This concerns the following categories of information: the IP address without last octet; the time, country, location, language of request; the browser, operating system, service provider, screen resolution; the number of visitors, sessions, bounce percentages; page displays, page values, page bounce percentage, page departure percentage; average session duration; channel of visitation. We have switched off the options that Google offers to 'share information with Google' and we do not make use of other Google services with the Google Analytics cookies.

The privacy policy of Google is available at: <http://www.google.com/privacypolicy.html>.

You can set your browser so that you receive a notification whenever you receive a cookie or to allow or refuse cookies in general.

Data Protection Officer

We have not appointed a Data Protection Officer. A Data Protection Officer (DPO) is mandatory according to article 37 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) if the organization:

- Is a governmental institution or government agency (except in case of judicial authorities when exercising their judicial duties),
- Is primarily charged with processing which, due to their nature, size and/or their purposes, requires regular and systematic observation at a large scale from the involved parties,
- Is primarily charged with large-scale processing of special categories of personal information.

These criteria do not apply to us.

Your rights

When we process personal data about you, you have various rights which you can exercise. For example, you have the right to access, rectify and delete your data. You can also request us to transfer data to you or another party or to limit the data processing. In addition, you are free to object against processing of your information. You can submit your request to us by email at info@activehealthfoundation.org. We strive to respond to your request within 14 working days.

Filing a complaint

In the unlikely event you might not be satisfied with our way of handling your personal data, your complaint can be submitted. With respect to this, we refer you to our complaints regulations on our website. You also have the option of submitting a complaint to the Personal Data Authority. Contact details of the Authority Personal Data can be found here:

<https://autoriteitpersoonsgegevens.nl/nl/zelf-doen/privacyrechten/klacht-over-gebruik-persoonsgegevens>.

Amendments to this privacy policy

We reserve the right to amend this privacy policy. All changes will be announced on our website. We therefore advise you to consult our website regularly so that you are aware of any changes.

The original privacy document is written in Dutch and has been translated into English. While it is intended that both versions are identical, the possibility of any discrepancies between the Dutch version and English version might appear. In any case, the Dutch version of the privacy policy will dominate.

Automated decision-making

We do not use your personal information to in any way make automated decisions regarding your treatment. This means there is no automated decision-making as referred to in article 22 of the GDPR.
